

IFNRCON 2017

GANDHI SCHOLARSHIPS and CONFERENCE KINDNESS

Professor Narinder Kapur is an eminent UK based neuropsychologist, memory expert, author of prize winning book "The Paradoxical Brain", ex Head of Department at Cambridge and currently visiting faculty at the University College of London.

He is a long-standing member of the Gandhi Foundation in UK and has been deeply influenced by Gandhi's teachings. He was encouraged by his late father to think of those suffering in India. His father raised huge amounts for welfare in India and shared with him the horrific stories of partition. Professor Kapur's first 'encounter' with Gandhi was at the All India Medical Institute in the 1970s when he saw the Gandhi quote in the Out Patient Department.. "It is not our patient who is dependent on us, but we who are dependent on him. By serving him, we are not obliging him; rather, by giving us the privilege to serve him, he is obliging us..." Inspired by these words he dedicated his last book, The Paradoxical Brain, to Gandhi's memory.

It was in 2012, while attending a conference that he had an idea of how to put into practice three key Gandhian principles – 'Love, Kindness and Self Sacrifice' and conceptualized a unique program called 'Conference Kindness'. Through this program, books and materials are donated by UK based doctors and sent to India to be sold at extremely low cost to students and young professionals here at the conference. The money collected is then donated to a deserving charity in India. In this way all benefit and have an opportunity to help others.

Additionally, Professor Kapur offered from his personal funds, 10 Gandhi scholarships of Rs 10000/- each, to deserving students and young professionals during IFNRCON 2015.

This year Professor Kapur has offered 5 Scholarship of Rs. 8500/- each for IFNRCON 2017 that will be matched by five more from IFNR.

So hurry and apply for the scholarships and register for the conference.

Professor Narendra Kapur's 'GANDHI SCHOLARSHIPS'

- Professor Narendra Kapur, Visiting Professor of Neuropsychology, University College of London (UCL) has kindly offered 5 scholarships of Rs. 8500/- each along with 5 matching scholarship from IFNR to deserving students and young professionals who are attending the conference.
- To apply for the scholarship please register for the conference and e mail a 1000 word essay on why you are interested in neurorehabilitation, how you have contributed to the field and why do you deserve this scholarship.
- Additionally, attach a brief CV outlining your educational qualifications, work experience and research publications, if any.
- The scholarships will be awarded during the conference.
- Please e mail to the following: ifnrcon2017@gmail.com and copy the same to shahurvashi100@gmail.com